ASSIGNMENTS

(50 POINTS) – There will be twelve (12) 5-point early-module assignments. This early-module work is designed to remind you of math and Principles of Microeconomic concepts necessary to be successful in that module. Early module assignments are open book and open note. You have two attempts at each early-module assignment, the highest grade counts, and the lowest two (2) are dropped from your final grade calculation. Early-module work will be submitted through Canvas or MyLab and are due on Tuesdays.

(60 POINTS) – There will be at least 50 2-point in-video quizzes. You will watch lecture videos and answer questions during that video. Not all videos have in-video quizzes. The total possible points for each in-video quiz is 2, regardless of the number of quiz questions in the video. These quizzes are open book and open note. You have two attempts at each in-video quiz, the highest grade counts, and only the highest 50 count towards your final grade calculation. In-video quizzes will be submitted through Canvas using the tool “PlayPosit” and are due on Fridays.

(60 POINTS) – There will be three (3) 20-point discussion postings or writing assignments.

The discussion will occur asynchronously; I will post a discussion question and you will respond to the questions at your convenience prior to the due date. Discussions are open book and open note and will be submitted through Canvas. The initial discussion post is due on Thursday and the discussion response is due on Sunday.

Writing assignments are open book and open note and will be submitted through Canvas.

These assignments also allow you to interact with classmates and build community.
